Cause of death must be stated in plain terms. If illness was of short duration, or if injury or poisoning, state how long before death it was received, and whether accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. Indefinite statements, such as "Heart Failure," "Exhaustion," "Septicæmia," "Blood Poisoning," "Pneumonia," "Cancer," "Tumor," "Abscess," "Paralysis," "Convulsions," "Dropsy," "Fever," "Old Age," are not sufficient. Name the disease causing the condition mentioned, and give the primary cause, if known, as well. If deceased was a woman, whether single, married, widowed, or divorced, state the fact. If a child, state whether legitimate or illegitimate. The full name of the deceased should be given in every case. Occupation should be stated in every case, and the particular kind of work should be clearly described. The place of birth should be stated definitely. If the exact date of birth cannot be ascertained, the approximate age should be given. Physicians are requested to make their certificates as complete and accurate as possible, as they are important. See instructions on back of certificate.

Major Wedderburn,
Bureau of Vital Statistics,
300 Equitable Building, Baltimore, Md.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed find a corrected death certificate for Hubert H. Barber. The original was issued by this institution on April 24th in the name of Hubert R. Barber. At the time of this patients admission to the hospital he signed his name on the payment guarantee slip as Hubert H. Barber, and the discrepancy was not noted until today.

We are therefore changing our hospital records to conform to the above, and ask you to change your records to correspond.

Yours truly,

H H Sexton
